Please note: We send out e-mail notices every month on when the training schedule will be posted. In these e-mails it will tell you that you are only allowed to sign up for one class for the 1st week that the schedule is posted. It will also give you a date as to when you can add your additional classes. We do this to ensure that everyone has a chance to get into the main training class that they want to take. If you sign up for additional classes before the date listed, you will be removed from them.

Additional Classes: Once classes are opened up to add additional classes, you can go in as a returning user and add extra classes. You will not be charged for these classes. They will show at $0.00
